

CONFIDENTIAL INSTITUTIONAL RECORD

KASONA INSTITUTIONAL: APPLE INC. (AAPL) OVERVIEW

PREPARED BY KASONA INVEST ANALYSIS

Strategic Intelligence Unit | 25.03.2026

This document provides a structural overview of the subject company for institutional use only. It does not constitute financial advice. Accuracy is prioritized but not guaranteed.

1. Executive Summary: The Essence of Apple Inc.

Apple Inc. is a global leader in consumer electronics, software, and services. Known for its "walled garden" ecosystem, the company focuses on high-margin hardware integrated with proprietary services.

2. Company Heritage & Mission

Founded in 1976 by Steve Jobs, Steve Wozniak, and Ronald Wayne, Apple's mission is to bring the best user experience to customers through its innovative hardware, software, and services.

3. Core Business Model & Revenue Segments

Apple's revenue is primarily driven by the iPhone, followed by Services, Mac, iPad, and Wearables. The Services segment is a key growth driver with high recurring revenue.

4. The Product & Service Ecosystem

The ecosystem includes iPhone, Mac, Apple Watch, and AirPods, tied together by iOS, macOS, and iCloud. This creates high switching costs and brand loyalty.

5. Market Leadership & Competitive Moat

Apple's moat is built on brand equity, vertical integration, and a massive installed base of over 2 billion active devices.

6. Financial Architecture & Long-Term Resilience

Apple maintains a fortress balance sheet with massive cash reserves and consistent share buybacks.

7. Leadership & Corporate Governance

Led by CEO Tim Cook, the management team focuses on operational excellence and gradual innovation.

8. Strategic Growth Roadmap: The Next Decade

Focus areas include AI integration (Apple Intelligence), Spatial Computing (Vision Pro), and expansion in India and other emerging markets.

9. Risk Matrix & Mitigations

Risks include regulatory pressure on the App Store (antitrust), supply chain concentration in China, and intense competition in AI.

10. The Kasona Investment Case: Conclusion

Apple remains a "core" institutional holding due to its cash flow generation, ecosystem stability, and ability to monetize its user base.